

“ Saving the planet tastes

” delicious – Tom Warner

‘Scuse the language – we’re just a bit excited about our London Dry Gin. This brand spanking new recipe properly kicks ass. Born from our farm, not a factory, it’s packed with 100% natural ingredients and tons of hard graft.

The lavender? Smells great doesn’t it. It’s just one of a bunch of botanicals we grow. There’s no corner cutting here, just proper commitment to the planet and making the best bloomin’ gin possible.

And, because we’re firm believers in putting back more than we take, we signed up to 1% for the planet too, putting our money where our (potty) mouth is.
